GOLDEN WEDDING OF MR. AND MRS. L. BINGHAM.

Felicitations of Their Friends—ing Water—Farmers Much Concerned Over the Drouth.

W. W. CLARK, Manager.
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 5, 1897.
Deacon Lucius Bingham and wife celebrated their golden wedding at their home in this village Monday afternoon. Mr. Bingham, who is in his eighty-fourth year, came to Wisconsin in 1839 and has been a resident of Rock county since that time.
Mrs. Bingham is 76 years of age.
They were married here, Oct. 4, 1847.

Road Commissioner Coon is at work putting in an open ditch across the highway at the corner of Dunn, Boss & Co's. block. This ditch is to be about sixteen inches in depth at the lowest point, paved in the center with cobblestone, and sloped back from the center fourteen feet on either side.
This ought not to interfere with travel, but there is much unfavorable comment. The water on College street has been a great nuisance every spring to both property owners and the public and a tile or covered drain has proven a failure for good and sufficient reasons, therefore the town authorities have decided to give an open ditch a trial should it fail to accomplish the purpose designed or prove an obstruction in the highway it can be filled up, but until tested those who are opposed to its construction should hold their temper.

There was considerable activity in grain market last week and farmers made deliveries here who are nearer other shipping points. Car load shipments included four cars of oats and three of barley by J. S. Fetherston, one of hay and one of oats by G. R.
Fetherston, one of hogs by Vincent & Hassenger, three of hay by E. Goodrich, one of straw by Dick Prell and one of straw by W. H. Waterman.

Professor Edwin Shaw occupied the pulpit at the Seven Day Baptist church Saturday morning, Pastor Platts being in attendance on the quarterly meeting at Walworth.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. D. Smith of Harvey, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. P.
Clark Saturday. Mrs. Smith is a sister of Charles Sack, who lives on the "town line."

Joe Granger, W. H. Walworth and the Miller brothers rode their wheels to the Elkhorn fair Thursday morning returning in the evening.

Joseph Palmer, assistant principal in the Palmyra high school, spent Saturday and Sunday at home. He is well pleased with his work.

Rev. Mr. Sherwin, the M. E. pastor, was unable to preach for his congregation Sunday and Rev. W. T.
Miller took his place.

Operator Sperbeck has left his station, and his position is filled by Operator Rossiter, from the Mineral Point division.

a new pump in their mammoth well at this station Saturday.

McEwan recently.

relatives.

FOOTVILLE BURIED UNDER DUST.
Drouth Sets the Old Residents to Telling About Early Days.

Footville, Oct. 5.—The weather is still hot and dry while old settlers remark they have never seen dust so deep as now. Rain is badly needed.
Mist Mulechey after living with his mother thirty seven years moves from the old home to the Campbell place one and one half miles east of Foot-ville. Jim Conlin, night yard master for the C. & N. W. at 40th street, Chicago has been spending a few days with his brother and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barlow are to move from Belvidere, Ill., soon and settle on a farm, which he has bought near Footville. Mrs. H. Becker spent Sunday with friends in Beloit.

The young people report a huge time at the banquet at Mr. and Mrs.
W. H. Cary's Friday evening. Edward Edwards of Beloit, is in town for a few days. The Ladies' Aid literary society to be given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Vespera, Friday evening, October 8, promises to be one of enjoyment. Each one present is requested to dress to represent some book, but if you can't do this come anyway. All are cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walton and Mr. and Mrs. A. Hetrick spent part of last week with friends at Foreston, Ill.
Miss Hemmingsway, the popular dressmaker of Hanover, is putting smiling faces on some of her lady customers in Footville. The Epworth League are planning for an Epworth League rally in the near future. Mrs. W. J. Owen Jr., arrived home from Baraboo Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Silverthorn of Charleston, Ill., who have been spending the past week with relatives here, left for St. Paul, Monday. Mr. Silverthorn left this vicinity in 1853 for Charleston, Ill., where he still resides. He remarks what a wonderful change in Rock county since that date. E. R.
Carlson has a fine new smoke stack on his creamery, which is a great improvement. John Langdon having left the employ of the Chicago & Northwestern, as bridge carpenter, now comes back to our village to work at his trade. James Mable attended the Elkhorn fair, last week. Henry Egerton attended the Oshkosh fair, last week. G. D. Silverthorn returned from his western trip the latter part of last week, well pleased with prospects. Alden Ross returned home, Saturday, from a two weeks' visit in Illinois.

LAMED BY BOILING WATER
Mrs. Ariel Worthing, of Magnolia, Met With a Painful Accident.

Magnolia, Oct. 5.—Mrs. Ariel Worthing had the misfortune to spill a tea kettle of boiling water on her feet last Friday. They were badly blistered and she can wear no shoes for some time to come. Miss Edith Woodstock, the young lady who won the prize ring for being the handsomest girl in town at Red Wolf's show several years ago was married Oct. 1 at the home of her parents to Mr. Finley, of Beloit. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Newton.
Anton Cole has moved into the house vacated by William Acheson and William Acheson has bought the house on the corner from Mrs. J. C.
Howard and Mr. Howard's family have moved into the house where Anton Cole has lived the past two years and so the changes go merrily on. Mrs. G. W. Cram, of Minnesota, and Mrs. Cassius Seales and little son of Janesville, were the guests of Mrs. Anton Cole last Saturday. Rev.
Mr. Newton preached in Janesville on last Sunday. The surprise on the Modern Woodmen Saturday night, by their wives, was enjoyed by all who attended. A supper was provided, and when the Woodmen were through with their lodge, they were amazed to find that the ladies had taken possession of all their rooms, except the hall, and that also was also brought into service. They all ate until they could eat no longer, and at 12 o'clock they left for their homes. Mrs. Hattie Weaver is quite sick with neuralgia of the stomach.
Quarterly service will be held at the Advent church, commencing next Saturday evening, and holding over Sunday. Everybody invited. William Acheson is painting G. H. Howard's new building. Bayard Anderson's new residence is almost ready to be occupied.
It is a lovely house—roomy and convenient. Lizzie Brown, who has been spending a month here, took her departure for Monroe, Sunday.

VERY DOLEFUL SOCIAL IN LIMA.
Broken Hearted Entertainment Will Be Held At the Hall.

Lima, Oct. 5.—The broken hearted social will be at the hall instead of Miss Carrie Johnson's on account of sickness at the latter place. A supper will be served at the nominal sum of 10 cents. There will be a Gramophone entertainment at the M. E. church next Friday evening under the auspices of the Epworth League. Admission 15 cents, children 10 cents. All are invited. Work was begun Monday on the cellar of Mrs. Cowles' house. Sixteen tickets for Elkhorn were sold by Station Agent Wurster last Thursday, and about as many more on Friday.
Emma Lempe, of Whitewater, spent Sunday at her mother's. Mrs. E.
Brown has moved her household goods from Whitewater and will make her home with her cousin, Mrs. William Truman. Mr. and Mrs. N. Freeman spent last week in Elkhorn. The dust is the worst thing we have to contend with at present. Mrs.
Bacon is home from her Janesville visit. Messrs. Stetson Holbrook and P. J. Godfrey together with their wives spent a pleasant day at New ville last Saturday. Nelson Collins and wife gave a party on Saturday evening for Mrs. Collins' brother, Charlie Higgins. Our new pastor is expected to occupy the M. E. pulpit next Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Carrie Bray and children left for their home in Green county Monday. Mr. Hart has gone north on a business trip.
Miss Edna Painter is entertaining a cousin from Jefferson county. Will Newkirk spent Sunday with his brother in Stoughton.

ADVANCE IN COAL IS EXPECTED SOON

EASTERN AGENTS CANVASS
THE STATE.

Mission of the Sales Agents of the Companies Thought to Be to Restore the Old Price to the Consumer—Have to Raise Selling Figures.

A lift in local coal quotations is expected to result from the meeting in Milwaukee today. Eastern agents are in session, and there will be a concerted movement for a restoration of prices. Milwaukee figures are low, and their effect is felt on prices throughout the state. The retail figure in Milwaukee for all the standard grades of anthracite at Milwaukee remain for the present at $5.75 a ton, just where they were forced by the placard posted by the agents for Cox Bros., Saturday afternoon. An inferior grade of anthracite is selling at $5.50, but as this coal is invariably sold at twenty-five cents a ton below the regular price, it cuts no figure.

An advance of $1 in the Milwaukee price is predicted in consequence of today's session. This will affect outside trade, although less emphatically.
Not Much Coal Shipped.

While there is no shortage in the supply of hard coal considering the season of the year, coal is being shipped in limited quantities, and with the sharp advance that has been made in lake freights, it is contrary to the rules of trade that a reduction in price should be made at this time. As a matter of fact, 85 per cent. of the anthracite coal workings are controlled by one man, who has undertaken the task of increasing the price of coal by decreasing the output, and the Milwaukee coal dealers, it is declared, will not be permitted to cut the price agreed upon by the Eastern mining powers.

Grades of Hard Coal.

A Milwaukee coal dealer has been credited with declaring that there are but two grades of anthracite, known as "white ash" and "red ash," and that white ash is the only kind used in the Milwaukee market. Other dealers say it is well known that there are several grades of both red and white ash coal; that some of it is so soft that it burns with the greatest rapidity, while other grades are so hard that they are not classified as free burners. Anthracite coal does not deteriorate from any kind of exposure except that which reduces to ashes or clinkers, and it is nonsense, so several agents yesterday asserted, that 100,000 tons of the Pittsburg & Erie output had become damaged by exposure and was shipped to Milwaukee to be sold at $5.50 a ton.

Dealers Short on Contracts

Some of the Milwaukee coal dealers who have been caught short on their contracts for furnishing soft coal, are complaining that there is no coal of this kind coming into market, asserting that a new strike has broken out among the miners of some of the largest workings. This is erroneous. One dealer alone has a cargo of 15,000 tons being unloaded at the dock at the present time, another has a cargo of 2,000 tons on the lakes, and another charter being loaded. The coal is known as "Pittsburg screenings," the grade in favor among Milwaukee manufacturers. The truth is, the dealers usually take this time of the year to accumulate surplus stocks for the winter, but are obliged on account of the strike, to use the consignments as fast as they arrive, to fill contracts that are running against them, and which we made on a basis of twenty cents a ton freight rates, which have now gone to thirty cents, with a prospect that forty cents will be asked before the week is over.

WANTED FOR A GRAVE CRIME

Frank L. Rivers Is Sought By the Police of Sac City, Iowa

Frank L. Rivers, a former resident of this city, is wanted at Sac City, Ia., for attempted murder. Fifty dollars reward is offered for his arrest and detention in any jail in the United States. The local police were notified this morning by Sheriff De Garmo of Sac City.

Soon after he committed the crime and made his escape the police broke into his room at his boarding house.
In a small satchel in a corner of the room papers were found which indicated that the would-be murderer was a former employe of the Janesville Street Railway company. Several street car tickets, the backs of which bore the advertisements of Frank H.
Baack and Prentice & Evenson were also discovered in one corner of the grip.

A photograph and description of the missing man is in Sheriff Acheson's hands. Rivers is described as follows: height 5 feet, 3 inches, weight 118 pound, dark complexion, dark eyes and hair, he is a great boaster and claims to be a wrestler and foot racer and is of French decent.

SUES FOR $5,000 DAMAGES

Mrs. Gleason of Rock County Defendant in a Slander Case.

Mrs. Belle C. Buob, formerly of this city, now of Rockton, Ill., has brought suit against Mrs. Hannah Gleason, wife of a well-to-do farmer, for $5,000 damages for alleged slander. Mrs.
Gleason says that it is a case of blackmail. Mrs. Buob was the wife of John Buob, formerly of this city, but a separation was secured some time ago.

RECALLED EARLIER DAYS

Dedication of a Soldier's Monument Brings Forth Many Memorable Expressions.

There has just been dedicated in Barhamstead, Conn., Dr. J. B. Whit-ing's native town, a marble shaft in memory of the veterans of the revolution, the war of 1812, the Mexican war and the rebellion. Dr. Whiting was expected to be one of the speakers and this graceful letter explaining his absence appears in the Litchfield County Leader's report of the exercises.

Janesville, Wis., Sept. 7, 1897.—Hon. William Wallace Lee. Companion of My Boyhood.—It is painfully evident at this late moment that I cannot be with you at the dedication of the soldiers' monument. I know I promised to come "if the walking was good." But as my heart glowed in the thought of the work Barhamstead was doing in honor of the men who had honored her, I quite forgot that feet that had been moving along a somewhat rugged road since "22" might not be able to make the journey, however good the walking might be.

Ten days ago, while making a journey by rail, I took a violent cold, which has placed me much below my usual standard of health, and my friends do not think it prudent for me to leave home. So I must content myself by sending greetings to the dear old town that gave me birth and that received the ashes of my immediate ancestors. As I write, the waves of memory are surging across the soul, bringing back the sweet sounds of kindly words spoken in the long ago; and bringing too, the loving faces and the kindly acts of those who guided me so lovingly over the rough places in childhood life.

May God's blessing be upon them always. In memory of the past and in hope of the future, I am very truly,
JOSEPH B. WHITING.

The report includes many interesting bits of history and description, and one especially beautiful thought was beautifully expressed by Wallace S. Carter, the orator of the day, in these words:

"Historically the first settlement was at Jamestown, Va., in 1606; but the true foundations of the American Republic were laid when Elder William Brewster and his hundred pilgrims landed from the Mayflower at Plymouth, December 21, 1620. Every child in the land knows all about the Mayflower; few have even heard of the Sarah Constant. I am glad they came when they did; it suggests that other December appearances of 1600 years before. Toward the manger of Bethlehem the Christmas star in the East pointed as the birthplace of the Savior of men, while to the rock of Plymouth it pointed centuries later, as the birthplace of political and religious freedom. The coming of the world's redeemer and birth of a christian republic were the two grandest December occurrences of recorded time."

Troubles of the Lillian Brought Company

The trouble of the Lillian Brought Opera Co. have not ended. A Janespending payment. The young man who wore the costume also insists that he has something coming from the company and would like to get his hands on the outfit in order that he might force payment himself. Meanwhile the costumer in Chicago and the managers of the company are fighting

Kickapoo Indian Sagwa—Nature's Own Great Remedy.

Mrs. Christine Pedersen of Duluth, Minn., is one of the thousands who proclaim its merits.

It is the Essence of the Indian's Knowledge of the way to Restore Health Which They Unhesitatingly Give to Civilized Man.

Mrs. Christine Pedersen, whose address is Box 729, Duluth, Minn., writes to the Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co. the following letter:—

"There is no mistake about what Kickapoo Indian Sagwa will accomplish. I want to tell you how quickly it cured me. Had been suffering for over a year with a sour stomach, accompanied by other disagreeable symptoms. Was unable to even take a drink of water without causing me pain. I began to see the good effects of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa after taking three doses. Three bottles cured me entirely. I give you this statement for the benefit of others who are suffering in a similar way. Yours truly, Mrs. Christine Pedersen."

This is simply another case of a disordered stomach, made well by Nature's own remedy, Kickapoo Indian Sagwa. Why is it that others will not follow Mrs. Pedersen's example, and have their health restored to them? A deranged stomach causes more sickness, more unhappiness, more pain and leads to more serious complications than any other one form of disease. Make your stomach well, keep your blood pure, see that your kidneys and liver act as they should, and good health will be yours, and all this by the use of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa, which can be bought of any druggist for $1 a bottle.

Gold Outflow from Europe.

London, Oct. 5.—The Westminster Gazette says in its financial article this afternoon that the weekly statement of the New York associated banks favors the idea that money will soon be dearer, and adds: The return indicates that we are approaching a time when the shipments of gold from Europe will commence, especially as lately there has been a check in buying American securities for New York account. Any such overflow will, we believe, affect first, by arrangement, the Bank of France.

A NEW DISCOVERY WHICH IS WORTH THAT MUCH.

To Anyone Afflicted With Piles.

The Pyramid Pile Cure, the new painless remedy which has been so remarkably successful in curing every form of piles and rectal diseases, has recently been placed on sale at druggists and it is safe to say that when its extraordinary merit becomes fully known, there will be no such thing as surgical operations for the cure of this obstinate and common trouble.

Mrs. M. C. Hickley of 601 Mississippi St., Indianapolis, Ind., says: I had been a terrible sufferer from piles for fifteen years and no remedies benefited me. Until I saw an advertisement of the Pyramid Pile Cure; I got a package also a package of Pyramid Pills and used both according to directions. I was astonished at the immediate relief obtained and now I honestly believe the Pyramid to be the only certain cure for piles.

That you may realize how bad I was, I will say that I was confined to my bed and went before the college physicians here who said my case was a new one to them and would seven or eight hundred dollars to undertake a cure; the great pain had brought on a rupture and I know an operation would be death to me on account of blood poisoning. Nearly everyone here knows of my terrible suffering from piles and I feel that I cannot praise the Pyramid Pile Cure enough and the Pyramid Pills also. My husband will join me in highly recommending the Pyramid, my daughter was cured by one box only. For several years I weighed but about 90 pounds, now I weigh 150 and feel in perfect health.

This seems to be the universal testimony of every sufferer from piles who have ever tried the Pyramid; it is the safest, most painless pile cure yet discovered; contains no opiate, morphine, cocaine or any poisonous ingredient, whatever, has a soothing, healing effect, from the first application, and the moderate price places it within the reach of everyone needing treatment. The Pyramid Cure is sold by druggists at 50 cents and $1.00 per package and the Pyramid Pills at 25 cents per box. Send to Pyramid Co., Albion, Mich., for free book on cause and cure of piles.

CHILD WANDERED AWAY

Little Oerlin Van Syckel Causes His Mother Much Uneasiness.

A. A. Cadwallader the West Superior banker who went south after being released in this city is now in Newport, Ky. He is established in the chair manufacturing business and is now prospering. A recent issue of the Covington Post gives details of an incident that will be of interest to Janesville people. The Post says: "Little Oerlin Van Syckel, 2, of Janesville, Wis., who, with his mother is visiting the Cadwalladers, at 633 York street, Newport, got on the street for the first time Tuesday and wandered to the river. His mother notified the police. In the meantime the little fellow, who could not talk, was found with a large boy by a passerby and taken to Koegel's. The police were telephoned, and the boy was soon in the arms of his mother. The little fellow could only cry and say 'Mama.'"

May Compromise Wyoming Strike.

Diamondville, Wyo., Oct. 5.—The striking miners at this place are still out, although at the present time the difference between their demands and the price the operators are willing to pay is only 2 cents a ton. The companies offer 48 cents a ton and agree to weigh the coal on top, including slack and other refuse. The miners demand 50 cents. They have heretofore been paid 70 cents, the coal being weighed after passing over an inch and a quarter of screen, which took out about 25 per cent of the gross weight. It is expected a compromise will be reached in a few days and the mines started.

Pigs Put on Trial.
In mediaeval times it was not uncommon to put animals on trial for their life. The animal which most frequently came before the criminal courts was the pig. At Mesnil St. Denis, near Paris, there still exists a spot called Truye Pendue, after a sow which was once hanged there for killing an infant, and about twenty similar cases are recorded in France alone. Thus, in 1386, the magistrates of Falaise condemned a pig to have its snout and one leg cut off and then be hanged for having killed an infant and eaten part of its face and arm. The pig was executed in the market place dressed in human apparel, and the executioner received ten deniers and a new glove as his fee.
The following is the statement of expense sent to the bailiff of Mantes in March, 1403, for the execution of a sow which had killed a baby:
For her expenses while in goal.....6 sols, Parisian Item to the hangman who came from Paris to make said execution.....24 sols.
Item, for the cart which took her to the gallows.....6 sols.
Item, for cords to tie and drag her.....2 sols 8 deniers Items for gloves.....2 deniers
In all these cases the animal was duly arrested, imprisoned, tried and condemned with every legal formality.

Life in a "Flat."
The narrow quarters to which city people who live in "apartments" consign themselves are nicely indicated by a story told by a contemporary. In a certain city flat the wall paper had grown very dingy, but the landlord had persistently refused to replace it. At last the tenant said to his wife:
"It's no use, Julia, we shall have to put on some new paper at our own expense."
"And take all the trouble to scrape off the old?"
"Certainly not. We'll put it on right over the other."
"John! And make the rooms smaller still."

Obtaining Large Crystals.
Much difficulty has been experienced in obtaining large-sized crystals. It is said that large crystals may be secured in the following manner: The small crystal is so mounted that while in a saturated solution it can be continuously rotated on itself with a speed of several rotations to the second. Potassiums and ammonium alums, copper sulphide and sodium chlorate are said to give particularly fine results.
A Lively Day.
"You must have missed the glorious Fourth when you were abroad."
"No, I didn't."
"Didn't miss the firecrackers, and the bands, and the rockets?"
"Not a bit of it."
"Why, where were you on that day?"
"A friend was showing me Paris."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Correa, minister of war; Admiral Pulgerveer, minister of marine; Senor Capdepon, minister of the interior; Count Xignena, minister of public works; Senor Moret, minister of the colonies. NEW MARK ON GOLF LINKS

Frank E. Fifield Plays the Buckleton Course in 95 For 18 Holes.
Frank E. Fifield has established a new record for the Sinissippi Golf club. He played two rounds on the Buckleton links making a full eighteen hole circuit in 95 strokes. His play was very even throughout, in the second nine holes there being no hole above six. The record for the second hole, Easy Street 387 yards in length, was broken by his score of three strokes. A drive of 150 yards was followed by a mashie shot which landed him on the green where a ten foot putt gave him the hole. On the first round he made Profanity in 6 strokes, setting a new record for this 563 yard hole. An accurate approach shot from the back 100 yards away and a putt of 8 feet were the features of this performance. Mr. Fifield's score by holes to the two rounds was as follows:
First.....5 5 5 5 5 7 7 6 4-49 Second.....5 3 5 5 6 5 6 6 5-46
The Sinissippi Golf club has been challenged by the Lake Zurich Golf club of Chicago for a team match to be played on the Lake Zurich grounds late this month. The challenge will be accepted.
The Class B team of the Janesville club will go to Edgerton Friday to play the Edgerton team.

TWO DOGS SHOWN IN COURT

Sheep-Killing Case Results in Discussion of Canine Peculiarities.
The taking of testimony in the Wixom-Shoemaker case was begun in the municipal court this morning, as soon as the jury had been secured. The jurors were Joseph Garbutt, Erick Overstrud, F. E. Parry, Thomas Ogden, Fred Snyder, Mark Fitch, James Bliss, Thomas Grove, W. H. Curtis, L. L. Fletcher and W. M. Eldredge.
Col. Wixom was the first witness examined and dwelt strongly upon the details of sheep killing. One point on which Attorney Wheeler questioned him closely was that when he went out attracted by the noise made by dogs among the sheep, he found that his own pair of bull dogs were still on the porch. Apparently they had not stirred although the disturbance was in a barnyard only a short distance from the house.
Charles White and Henry Huggett were also examined during the afternoon. Mr. Huggett testified that two dogs which he believed to be the Shoemaker dogs had worried sheep at his place.
The two dogs were led into court by long ropes this afternoon to be identified by the witnesses.

ODDFELLOW SUITS ON TRIAL

Both Parties Are Determined to Fight the Matter To the End.
Whatever the outcome of the Janesville Oddfellow suits the case will go to the higher courts. Assignee J. U. Fulton declared this morning that he would take the matter to the supreme court if necessary, while the Janesville defendants are equally determined. After much effort this morning a jury was secured consisting of O. C. Bennett, L. A. Hemmens, C. E. Bowles, John DeForest, E. J. Schmidley and John Harvey.
A. B. Norton, secretary of the assignees, was the principal witness for the plaintiff; his testimony merely establishing the identity of the books, and account and proving the date of the assessments. Attorney George Lines of Milwaukee, who won the Oshkosh case for Assignee Fulton, appeared for the plaintiff, and Nathaniel & Nolan for the defendant. The John Stockman case has been substituted for the Adam Apfel case, for test purposes. Mr. Stockman's liability is $42, an amount sufficient so that an appeal can be taken to the circuit court.

The Thermo-Ozone Battery A Sure Discovery for the Cure Of Diseases For the First Time Deafness is Cured by Sending Medicine Into the Middle and Inner Ear.
Aurists in this and other countries have exhausted their skill in treating the drum of the ear and eustachian tube. No plan, no method, has ever before been adopted capable of carrying the treatment into the mucous membrane that covers the bones of the middle ear and other organs of hearing.
OUR CONFIDENCE
is so thoroughly authenticated by cures that for a limited time, we will give free trial treatments, at our office, for catarrhal deafness; ringing, roaring, or buzzing hissing noises, in the ears positively cured—over 175 treatments given in September without a failure. We treat all disease for which stomach medicine is given. But we GIVE no medicine by the month.

FIRE-GUARDS POSTED
BY MANY FARMERSEVERY PRECAUTION TAKEN AGAINST CONFLAGRATION.

Hunters Warned to Keep Off Stubble Fields For Fear of Spreading Flames—One Hundred Acres Were Burned Over By Yesterday's Grass Fire.

The present dry spell is dangerous to life and property. Farmers are taking extra precaution these days, to guard against fire. The parched condition of the country makes this step absolutely necessary. On numerous farms east and west of this city, may be seen sign boards bearing the following:

"No shooting allowed here, for fear of fire."

Not only are sign boards generally displayed but the farmers themselves are patrolling their premises watching for bonfires kindled by boys or tramps.

Since the fire on the McFarlane farm near Johnston Sunday night the watch has been stricter than ever. Especially is this true among farmers who carry little or no insurance on their stock or building.

In several cases farmers have placed a night watch on duty.

Burned Over 100 Acres.

Before the grass fire south of the city was put out last evening, it burned over one hundred acres, and destroyed two hay stacks belonging to Richard Morris of 109 Park avenue. The flames spread over the farms of Cornelius Stout, J. Jeffron, Michael Barnes and M. M. Phelps. It was prevented from getting into the Hanover marsh by the vigorous efforts of Chief Spencer and two of his assistants, who beat the fire out with limbs chopped from trees. The department had a mile and a half run to the scene of the fire, and water was secured with great difficulty, it being necessary to lay 1,800 feet of hose.

A burning chimney on the John Mathews residence at 13 Pearl street caused the department a long run today. No water was used and the damage was nominal.

Warning Against Bonfires

According to the official weather report for the state we have just passed through one of the driest Septembers in years as well as one of the hottest. The drouth has played havoc with pastures, which are like barren deserts; and many a farmer is compelled to feed cattle when a year ago the pastures and hillsides were rich with grass.

The local fire department has been cautioned as to the gravity of the situation and Chief Spencer warns all persons against starting bonfires. In the fall of 1871 at the time of the great Chicago fire the mayor of Janesville issued a warning to the public that no fire should be kindled within the city limits. At that time the condition of the country was no worse than today. The Janesville Water company realizing the situation have extended the time of the street sprinkling and lawn service until further notice.

COUNCIL MUST GET
NEW ROLLER SHED

C. & N. W. SPUR INTERFERES WITH PRESENT SHELTER.

Street Work Ordered In Various Parts of Town—Rubble to Be Put On Various Thoroughfares in the Fifth Ward—File Cabinet For the City Clerk.

Several pieces of street repairing were ordered by the common council last evening and steps were taken to look for a place of shelter for the steam roller. Alderman Burnham pointed out that the ordinance passed by the council giving the C. & N. W. permission to build a spur track on South River street would interfere with the building in which the roller has been housed. He suggested that there had been a good deal of negligence about the care of a machine that cost so much money.

An allowance of $26.66 was made to Morris Stack for error in assessing tax.

The clerk was instructed to contract for a metal file case with 120 files, the case to be put in the clerk's office for $150. Two separate cases for chattel mortgages were ordered added at an expense of $5.

Orders were passed covering the following matters:

By Alderman Kothman—For a new sidewalk in front of north two-thirds of lot 5 in Smith, Bailey & Stone's addition; also to owners of south 1/2 lot 5 and north 1/2 of the south 1/2 lot 6, in same addition on South River street.

By Alderman Gilkey—For a new sidewalk in front of lots 1, 4 and 5, Witham's subdivision of part of Dixon & Bailey's addition; also lots 2, 3, 5, 6 and 7, Glennetta addition on Clark street; also lots 5 and 6, Wheeler addition; block 2, Calkins' addition on Main street.

By Alderman Rice—For new sidewalks in front of lots 17 and north four feet of 18 in Willard's subdivision on Academy street; also to repair a sidewalk on Academy street and build a new walk in front of north half southeast quarter of lot 42 in Mitchell's addition on Terrace street.

By Aid Jones—That the street commissioner repair with fine rubble, Western avenue between Center avenue and Linn street; Clarion street, between Gold street and Palm street on the hill north of Western avenue.

On motion of Alderman McKee, the application of S. E. Phillips for a building permit to erect a building back of the Burpee block on River street was denied.

It was moved by Alderman Rice that Helen street in D. P. Smith's Park View addition to Janesville be accepted and declared to be a public highway of a id city. Referred to the highway and bridge committee.

FAST TO HYMEN'S BONDS

Hadden-Bull.

At high 12 before the altar of Trinity Episcopal church the words were spoken that united as husband and wife John Morse Hadden and Nora Lillian Bull. Rev. W. H. Wotton officiated and the ring service was used.

The church was decorated with autumn leaves, palms, white flowers, and smilax, while the pews reserved for relatives were marked with white ribbons and smilax. Mrs. Mary Stever was at the organ and at 12 o'clock as the music pealed forth, the boy choir, attired in white robes, entered the church singing the wedding chorus from Lohengrin. Then came the maid of honor, Miss Nettie Kent, followed by the bride, attired in her traveling dress, and leaning on the arm of her cousin Edwin Field. They were met by the groom and his brother, William Hadden, of Johnston, who acted as best man. Then came the ushers, Dr. George W. Field, N. F. Cowles, W. S. Field, George H. Sale, Charles W. Bliss and Arch Hadden.

The prospective bride and groom took their places before the altar and the words were spoken that made them man and wife.

Immediately following the ceremony the happy couple accompanied by relatives and a few intimate friends partook of an elaborate 1 o'clock luncheon at the Ravine street home of the bride's mother. The tables were handsomely decorated with flowers and smilax. In the parlor stood tables covered with wedding gifts telling of the esteem of friends.

The bride is the only child of Mrs. Sarah A. Bull. In 1894, as a graduate of the Janesville High school, she entered the Whitewater Normal, where she graduated with high honors. Of late she has filled the position of teacher in the fourth grade of the Washington school with much credit.

The groom, who was a former Rock county boy, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hadden, who reside near Johnston. Of late years he has held the responsible position of yardmaster for the Louisville & Nashville railway at Montgomery, Alabama, to which position he has been promoted through strict and constant attention to business. After an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hadden will leave for their Montgomery home.

King-Bennett.

George E. King of this city, and Miss Estella Bennett of Monroe, will be married on Nov. 10, at the home of the bride's parents. After a short wedding trip they will begin house-keeping in one of the Waverly flats on North Main street.

The prospective bride, who is one of Monroe's most popular young ladies, was until this year a teacher in the Janesville schools, while the groom-to-be is one of Janesville's best known young business men.

NORCROSS HAS SOLD
TO MICHIGAN MAN

DEAL ANNOUNCED BY GAZETTE PUT THROUGH.

M. S. Harmon of Menominee, Pay $12,000 For the Norcross Interest In the Janesville Shoe Factory and Has Put In $10,000 of Additional Capital.

The sale of Captain Pliny Norcross interest in the Richardson-Norcross shoe factory announced by the Gazette several days ago, was consummated last evening. S. H. Harmon of Menominee, Mich., is the purchaser, and the price paid is $12,000. Mr. Harmon acts as trustee for A. A. Carpenter, president of The Lumbermen's National Bank of Menominee of which Mr. Harmon is cashier.

The name of the firm will not be changed and the factory will remain in the present location. The capital stock, however, has been increased from $25,000 to $50,000. The new stockholder puts in $10,000 additional beside the $12,000 paid for Captain Norcross' interest. Alex. Richardson will have full charge of the business, Mr. Harmon taking no active part. The money is put in simply as an investment, it being believed that by increasing the output the profits can be materially enlarged.

The factory was established by Richardson & Norcross in 1880 and was incorporated as the Richardson-Norcross Company in 1892. Captain Norcross retires in order that he may hereafter devote his entire time to his electric lighting interests.

FIREPLACES BUILT OF SNOW.

Winter Life in Northern Latitudes Has Some Singular Features.

At the first glance snow does not look like a very promising material for a fireplace, and yet I think I am not mistaken in saying that every winter there are hundreds of fires built in fireplaces made of this substance, says a writer in Lippincott's Magazine. This is less surprising when we stop to think that in the part of America where this is done the temperature outdoors during the winter months seldom rises as high as zero and frequently falls as low as 40 or 50 degrees below. About the end of January, or when the sun again appears above the horizon, many families of the two Eskimo villages near Point Barrow, in Alaska, leave their winter houses and travel inland 75 or 100 miles to hunt reindeer along the upper waters of the large rivers that flow into the Arctic Ocean east of the Point. Here they encamp in large, comfortable snow houses, usually dug out in a solid snowdrift. Like all Eskimo winter houses, these are entered by means of a long, low tunnel, and opening out of one side of this tunnel there is a fireplace built of snow slabs. I never had a chance to go out to the rivers with the deer hunters, but one winter three was a snow fireplace built in the Cape Smyth village, near our station. A young man and his wife moved down from Point Barrow after winter had set in, and as there was no accommodation for them in any of the permanent wooden houses, they built themselves a small hut from blocks of snow and roofed it over with sailcloth. I made them a visit one afternoon and found the house pretty cold and uncomfortable, in spite of the large stone lamp that was burning all the time. The entrance tunnel was about ten feet long; at the left hand as you entered, and close to the door, was the fireplace. This was about two and a half feet square and neatly built of slabs of snow, with a smoke hole at the top and a stick across at the proper height to hang a pot on. When the first fire is built in such a fireplace there is considerable melting of the surface of the snow, but as soon as the fire is allowed to go out this freezes to a hard glaze of ice, which afterward melts into a very little. These fireplaces are used only for cooking, as the Eskimos rely wholly on the oil lamps for warming the dwelling.

TWO WAYS.

In telling an anecdote, it is highly important to know the end from the beginning. Prof. Arlo Bates, in his "Talks on Writing English," says he has to thank an Englishman for having unconsciously furnished him with an example of the disadvantage of relating an anecdote with the wrong end first. He told in the smoking-room of a London hotel an incident which I dimly remembered as being in James Dodds' "Biographical Study of Chalmers," and I made a note of his version in order to compare the two. This is Dodds' story:

"Chalmers was present at an evening party where a very accomplished lady was discoursing most eloquent music from the fashionable opera of the day.

"When she was at the overture and the recitative, he looked perplexed, as if listening to a melody of madness; but when she struck upon some lively and expressive airs, he turned with a look of relief to the gentleman who was next to him: 'Do you know, sir, I love these lucid intervals!'"

This is the way in which the English gentleman told it:

"I say, don't you know, Dr. Chalmers called tunes lucid intervals. Wasn't that good? Lucid intervals, by Jove! He heard a lady sing, don't you know, and that's what he said. He didn't mean all tunes, of course; but she'd been playing things, you know, and putting in instrumental falls and crazy things on the keys, and finally came to a song. I call that witty, don't you know?"

Feeds the Mississippi.

According to calculations of John Birkenbine, of Philadelphia, the drainage area of the Mississippi river is one and one-fourth millions of square miles, including nearly all of the country from the Alleghenies to the Rockies and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico. In his communication to the Engineers' Club, Mr. Birkenbine estimates that one inch of rain falling evenly over this area would equal 21,780,000,000 gallons of water. The average yearly fall in the Mississippi watershed averages from twenty to forty-three inches according to locality. The river has an average flow of 664,000 cubic feet per second.

Whisky Aged by Electricity.

The officials in the internal revenue office at New Haven, Conn., have completed a series of interesting tests made on whisky and other liquors refined by a recently invented electrical process. The whisky was mellowed as if by age. The liquor is sprayed into a glass retort and an electrical current of 200 volts is passed through the mist. The impurities are separated and the refuse flows out of one end of the apparatus, while the refined liquor flows out of the other. Orrin W. Swift is the inventor of the process.

Able Defense.

"Do you think your sister likes me, Tommy?"

"Yes. She stood up for you at dinner."

"Stood up for me! Was anybody saying anything against me?"

"No, nothing much. Father said he thought you were rather a donkey, but she got up and said you weren't, and told father he ought to know better than judge a man by his looks."

Household Words.

USEFUL THOUGHT WAVES.

Discord in One's Own Mind Creates Disturbance in Others.

What volumes of potential energy are wasted, and far worse, in negative and discordant mental activities! We are not thinking for ourselves, but for the world. With the shuttle of thought in the loom of mind, we are weaving the multi-colored fabric of conditions, and these not merely immaterial but to be outwardly actualized and manifested, says the Arena. If one in his own soul strikes the discordant notes of anger, envy, avarice, selfishness, or even those seemingly more harmless ones of simple fear, weakness, grief, pessimism or depression, he is creating and vibrating those conditions far and near, thereby stirring the corresponding chords in other souls into sympathetic activity. The sphere of outward action is limited, while that of thought is boundless. Mere doing makes ephemeral reputation, while quality of thinking determines, or rather is, vital character. Every one's thought-images are being constantly impressed upon both himself and others. His mind is a busy factory where conditions are positively manufactured. He weaves their quality, consciously or unconsciously, into every nerve, muscle or tissue of his own body. His materialistic thought tethers him in a little circle of limitation, while boundless green fields lie beyond waiting for occupation. His mental pictures of evil, disorder and disease photograph themselves not only upon his own mind and body but upon those of his fellows. One cannot afford to think much about evil, even for the well-intentioned purpose of its suppression. The true remedy is its displacement. Thought-space given to it confers realism, familiarity and finally dominion. To silence discordant strings in ourselves or others we must vibrate their opposites. To truly sympathize with a friend who is quivering with trouble or sorrow is not to drop into his rhythm and intensify it as is usual—but to lift his consciousness by striking a higher chord in unison. The road to mental and physical invigoration lies through the dynamics of formative thought. Our way to elevate other lives is also through their creative mental energies. When the art of projecting thought vibrations on a high plane is systematically cultivated, and the concentrative habit developed, potency for good is increased a hundred-fold. Force is no longer squandered in worse than useless discordant negations, but intelligently conserved in positive vigor and exuberance. Purposeful thought ministrations, spiritual and pure in quality, accurately and scientifically projected, like an arrow toward a target, will be the great harmonizing and uplifting agency that will transform the world. Vibrations of love, peace, spirituality, health, sanity and harmony will be radiated in ever-widening circles, striking responsive unisons that are only waiting for a well-directed concordant impulse. The dynamics of mind, when generally utilized, will be the sovereign balm that with scientific accuracy will heal all the infelicities of society. It will usher in not only reform but regeneration. In its copious fullness it will overflow from the altitude of spiritual development, until the subordinate planes of intellectuality, ethics, therapeutics, sociology, economics and physics are swept, purified and uplifted. The highest includes everything below.

He Was True.

Brave deeds are frequent, and one good office of the daily press is to record them for the world's remembrance. An instance in point is the following from the Mobile Register: An incident realizing John Hay's famous story of Jim Bludso, engineer of the Prairie Belle, who held her "nozzle agin the bank till the last galoot" was ashore, occurred here on the Chatahoocoo river in the wreck of the steamer Griggs. The steamer struck a snag which ripped open her bottom. She began to fill and the pilot headed her to a sand-bar, while the engineer crowded on all steam, though the water was already over a portion of the deck. Reaching the sand-bar, the vessel careened, and the water rushing in caught the brave engineer at his post in the engine room. He died there. Two other persons were lost, a roustabout, who became frightened and jumped overboard, and a negro woman, who became panic-stricken and refused to leave the lower deck. All the others were saved, thanks to the devotion of the engineer. The story is reported by a negro deck-hand, and is doubtless a true one. The hero's name was Waterberry.

A Question of Interpretation.

The relations between Italy and Abyssinia are somewhat unsettled by reason of different interpretations of the clause of the treaty signed last October, by which Italy agreed not to cede Erythra to any other power than Abyssinia. In the Italian translation of the treaty, this agreement is limited to the period during which the proper boundaries were being settled; but the Emperor Menelik insists that the translation is at fault, and that the words in the original Amharic text—the language of Abyssinia—mean that the obligation is a lasting one. Menelik has obtained so large a sense of his importance from the way in which Russian, French and English embassies have been paying court to him that he is capable of being very obstinate.

Families of Literary Men.

A Quarterly reviewer some time ago gave some curious particulars of the progeny of literary men. "We are not," says the writer, "going to speculate about the causes of the fact, but a fact it is, that men distinguished for extraordinary intellectual power of any sort rarely leave more than a very brief line of progeny behind them. Men of genius have scarcely ever done so; men of imaginative genius, we might almost say, never. With the one exception of the noble Surrey, we cannot, at this moment, point out a representative in the male line, even so far down as the third generation, of any English poet, and we believe the case is the same in France. The blood of beings of that order can seldom be traced far down, even in the female line. With the exception of Surrey and Spencer, we are not aware of any great English author of all remote date, from whose body any living person claims to be descended. There is no real English poet prior to the middle of the eighteenth century, and we believe no great author of any sort, except Clarendon and Shaftesbury, of whose blood we have any inheritance amongst us. Chaucer's only son died childless; Shakespeare's line expired in his daughter's only daughter. None of the other dramatists of that age left any progeny; nor Raleigh, nor Bacon, nor Cowley, nor Butler. The granddaughter of Milton was the last of his blood. Newton, Locke, Pope, Swift, Arbuthnot, Hume, Gibbon, Cowper, Gray, Walpole, Cavendish (and we might greatly extend the list), never married. Neither Bollingbroke, nor Addison, nor Warburton, nor Johnson, nor Burke transmitted their blood. When a human race has produced its 'bright, consuming flower' in this kind, it seems commonly to be near its end."

He says: "My boy came home from school with his hand badly lacerated and bleeding, and suffering great pain. ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth Century. Last year its sales reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience in laundry dyeing. It makes ironing easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a soft and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even as a baby powder.

CORRUPT."

If peradventure in the years to be You come, O child, to narrower needs of me As the world widens to you—yet although Life touch you with indifference as you go—No longer hand in hand and heart to heart, Should we be torn apart, Thrust far asunder in the hurrying press, Even so I shall not care companionless.
I mid the last late letters wandering slow,
With wearied, equal pace,
The silence of the sunset on my face—
The sunset spaces and low—With tired feet in the dew, Lifting mine eyes where you Far in the forefront of the pageant ride, Mailed in the splendors of your strength and pride,
You—yet another you.
Yourself as verily—leans his cheek to mine, Lits intricate eloquence divine With babbling call and coo.

The small down vested head, Golden and faint,
Pale as the arcture of a child saint,
Dear as a tender thought of one long dead,
The innocent eyes, the sweet Impetuous little feet—These, though the world went mourning for your sake,
Not the sheer tomb could take.

The sweet eyes plead, the fluttering hands implore,
The frail arms cling as fondly as before The strange years worked their will.

Child of my heart, though change and time divide
Me and your later semblance, you abide!
However time may devastate or fulfill,
Safe, incorruptible, shall my treasure hide, Borne on my breast, light pattering at my side, The fair ghost lingers still.

azine.

WHALEN'S LUCK.

Whalen's luck was copious, and it became proverbial. The facts here recorded are but specimen pages from the book of his experience.

When the Consolidated Canal company went into insolvency, its assets consisted of a mortgage right of way through the sagebrush and several completed but detached sections of a big ditch.

Mr. Brick Whalen, the contractor on section 8, had finished the heavy work there and was preparing to move camp to section 6 when the company went broke. It was, in fact, upon the very day the suspension was posted that Whalen, having had his contract work inspected, took the engineer's certificate up to headquarters to get his check. He received instead a statement that the company was in temporary difficulties and an assurance that it would soon resume.

Whalen had before this worked for shaky corporations. He knew better and lost no time in acting on his knowledge.
"No good howlin' over a broken pipe or tryin' to save the pieces," he told himself. To his gang of 20 men he said: "B'ys, the company's broke and so am I. I can't pay ye and I can't feed ye. You got to rustle."

"What's the matter with us taking the mules?" said one.
"Them mules and scrapers don't belong to me, as I've often told ye," said Whalen, whose custom it was to refer to a legendary buckaroo. "This ditching outfit is the property of Martin of San Francisco, and any man that meddles with it will get the sheriff after him."
"I'll take one, just the same," said Shorty, "and tell Martin he can have him again when my wages is paid.
That's about fair."

A few others took the same view of the equities involved and took mules, to which Whalen made only a wordy resistance. Most of the men were induced to accept orders on the default company for the amount due them, payable with large interest. "And if you don't get it very soon the interest will double your money," said Whalen.

When the last man had gone, Whalen went out to the corral and counted the mules. "Forty-one head. That was a pretty close call," said he.

It was late in the season to find another job of scraping, but the mules could not live on sagebrush and were at once started for the railroad. On a small stream where camp was made one night a band of trail sheep was also camped. Whalen eyed them disdainfully.

"I see the beggars eat sage," said he.
"Why, certainly," replied the sheep man. "That's the finest kind of feed for sheep."

"I wish work mules would do that," said Brick. "I never was so near a sheep in my life," he continued. "The smell of 'em a mile away is enough for me. Funny little fellows, and they look some like mules with ears and tails cut off. What do you do with them?"

"Double our money on them every 12 months," was the reply.

No extended description of sheep farming would have impressed the fancy of the veteran mule skinner, but "double your money" was his own familiar phrase for describing any hopeful venture, and on that evening he smoked many pipes of black plug over it. A brute that can thrive on a brush diet and double your money every year is an interesting creature.

At daybreak Whalen was in the sheep camp negotiating a trade of sheep for mules on a basis of 50 to 1 and prepared to accept much less. Three days later he sat in the door of the shack which had long done duty as mess house on section 3 of the canal, as many an evening before he had sat watching the mules come in from water. Tonight there was never a mule in sight. Down the breeze came a pungent odor and a tinkling of little bells. Over the crest of an adjacent hill appeared the flock, browsing on the rank sage.

"They do look some like mules," he soliloquized, "and I'll bet I'm the only Irishman in America ever owned a herd of sheep."

Winter came and passed, and the only Irishman prospered. By roofing in a cut with brush he had commodious sheds, and cross sections of poles divided the broad ditch into as many corrals as he chose. The sheep were fat and carried heavy fleeces.

Whalen had for help two boys who had wandered there and asked for work.

He had proposed to hire one of them, but the boys protested that they had never been separated, and that if they got jobs at different ranches "the other one wouldn't know where the other one was," a contingency which they could not abide. So Whalen offered to take the two at the price of one, and on that basis they shared with him the shack, herded the flock and cooked the grub. They soon knew as much or as little about sheep as Brick himself, and the proprietor found opportunity to break the monotony of camp life by occasional trips to the railroad and once to San Francisco.

"I'm going to see my friend Martin," he told the boys. "Now, tend to business and don't let any get away."
And the boys gave their word that not one should escape.

During Whalen's absence in the city he went out of the sheep business even more abruptly than he went into it the previous autumn. The instruction to the boys was fulfilled to the letter. Not any got away.

It happened on a hot day in June when, contrary to the usual custom, the boys brought the flock to camp and the shade of sheds at noontime. It never rains in that arid region, but sometimes pours. This was one of those times.
Charged with ice and water, a great black cloud came drifting down the wind and emptied out its load upon the camp and the hillside above it. The canal, curving around its base, formed an auge trough for the whole mountain and poured several thousand inches of water into Whalen's improvised sheep sheds. The flood very soon subsided, but when the cloud had passed and the sun again shone forth there were no living sheep. Not many minutes are required to drown a rat in a hole.

Meanwhile the boys, greatly frightened by the sudden storm and with no thought for the safety of the flock, were in the shack. The hail pounded and the wind shook it. Water covered the floor.

"Pray, Billy," said the one on the barrel.

"No; you do it," he answered from the table top.
The shack had no window, and with the door closed it was pretty dark in there. When Whalen reached home two hours later, the floor was still wet and the boys were yet roosting on table and barrel, but outside, in the bright sunlight, the ground appeared already almost dry. A solitary goat stood upon the shed roof. He had been among the sheep in the pen.

"You can't keep a good man down any more than you can a goat," was Brick's comment on the catastrophe.

While Whalen was working the boys double time at pulling the wool from the dead sheep he had the happy thought of stocking his ranch with bees. Having money enough from the proceeds of his wool sale to buy 100 stands, he promptly carried the thought into effect.

Again he sat down in the door of his shack to "double his money."

"This is better than sheep," said he,
"for they herds themselves. And they are like mules in one thing—you are liable to get hurt if you fool with 'em."

This wave of prosperity broke up as soon as former ones had done, for he had imported a bad case of foul brood, and within a year the hundred swarms had petered out. When we went down there last summer in the interest of a new company which has taken up the work of completing the canal, Whalen gathered the bones out of the old shed in the cut and hauled them to the railroad, where he sold them for fertilizer, realizing enough to buy two more mules.
With his four mule team he is at work in the ditch for day's wages. Somewhat grizzled now, and not so brick red of hair and whisker as formerly, he is happy as ever and sanguine that he will double his money.

"Here's hoping" that he may.—G.

Barristers' Fees.

Barristers' fees in England are a variable quantity. As viewed in a solicitor's bill of costs they look somewhat mysterious. A barrister's guinea ($5.25) is always £1 3s. 6d. ($5.87); 2 guineas ($10.50) are invariably £2 7d.
($11.75), and so on. This is explained by the fact that he charges a supplementary fee for his clerk at the rate of 2s. 6d. (62 cents) for every guinea he earns. No fee is less than a guinea. An unwritten law, dating from the time when the guinea was a coin of the realm, decrees that barristers must not accept silver. One transgression of this rule is recorded. A somewhat impecunious member of the profession accepted a few shillings as payment from a poor client. He was promptly called before the benchers of the inn to explain. His plea was that if he did not take gold he at least took all the man had got, whereupon he was at once honorably acquitted. It was impossible to cavil at such a worthy upholding of all the traditions of the profession. Like physicians, barristers cannot recover their dues at law. The fee is supposed to be an "honorarium" which was not expected. There is a quaint survival of the alleged sensitiveness of barristers about fees. In their gowns may still be noticed a sort of long, narrow pocket arrangement, hanging down at the back of the left shoulder. Its occupation is gone now, but in the old time it was the recognized receptacle for the guineas which were supposed to be dropped in surreptitiously by the client.
Very different is the brazen effrontery of these days, when eminent pleaders will calmly demand their 50 guineas "retainer" to induce them even to look at the proffered brief.—New York Mail and Express.

Fit and Fought.

One would have thought this an Americanism, but I find it in Garrick's "Miss In Her Teens," where Tag says to Flash: "Oh, pray let me see you fight! There were two gentlemen fit yesterday," etc. (act 2).—Notes and Queries.

MRS. LYNES ESCAPES

The Hospital and a Fearful Operation.

Hospitals in great cities are sad places to visit. Three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow-white beds are women and girls.

Why should this be the case?
Because they have neglected themselves! Women as a rule attach too little importance to first symptoms of a certain kind. If they have toothache, they will try to save the tooth, though many leave even this too late. They comfort themselves with the thought that they can replace their teeth; but they cannot replace their internal organs!

Every one of those patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warnings in the form of bearing-down feelings, pain at the right or the left of the womb, nervous dyspepsia, pain in the small of the back, the "blues," or some other unnatural symptom, but they did not heed them.

Don't drag along at home or in the shop until you are finally obliged to go to the hospital and submit to horrible examinations and operations!
Build up the female organs. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will save you from the hospital. It will put new life into you.

The following letter shows how Mrs. Lyness escaped the hospital and a fearful operation. Her experience should encourage other women to follow her example. She says to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I thank you very much for what you have done for me, for I had given up in despair.
Last February, I had a miscarriage caused by overwork. It affected my heart, caused me to have sinking spells three to four a day, lasting sometimes half a day. I could not be left alone. I flowed constantly. The doctor called twice a day for a week, and once a day for four weeks, then three or four times a week for four months. Finally he said I would have to undergo an operation. Then I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after one week I began to recover and steadily improved until I was cured completely. By taking the Pinkham medicine, I avoided an operation which the doctor said I would certainly have to undergo. I am gaining every day and will cheerfully tell anyone what you have done for me."—MRS. THOS.

WHY FAVORITE STOVES SAVE COAL

THE arrangement of radiating surfaces is unique. The hot air is utilized in the house—is not forced up the chimney until it has done its work. If you will study the flue construction as shown below you will readily see why it is that the FAVORITE Base Burner will throw out more heat with the same coal than any other Base Burner.

THE OLD WAY.

In above Flue Construction there are Four Surfaces Radiating Heat.

Above cut illustrates the arrangement of Bottom Flues in nearly all base burners, showing the Heat is not Equally Distributed.

THE NEW WAY.

In above Flue Construction there are NINE Surfaces Radiating Heat, Increasing the Heating Capacity with the same amount of fuel.

The above Bottom Flue Construction causes the Heat to go to the Outer Surfaces, Largely increasing the Heating Capacity and Economizing in Fuel.

The "Favorite" Base Burner has More Heating Capacity and is the Most Economical Stove ever made.
Why? Because it has about 1/2 more Radiating Surface as compared with same sizes of other base burners, and is Mounted and Fitted Perfectly.

Remember that headquarters for Stove and Furnace work is here.
